Rohingya Refugee Women and their Vulnerabilities

Prepared by:
Gonoshathaya Kendra, Cox’s Bazar.
Rohingya population are stateless in Myanmar since 1982.

- They are deprived of basic services, such as education, health, and family planning.
- They lack Freedom of Movement.
The Plight of Rohingya women

- Women and girls discriminated against and deprived of educational opportunities, freedom of movement, reproductive rights.
- Practice of seclusion
- Prevalence of polygamy
- Child and early marriage
Sufferings during migration

1. Forcefully deported.
2. Tortured, raped, murdered.
3. Journey itself tortuous and full of hardship, with several incidents of drowning.
Current stressors

- Loss of identity.
- Insecurity.
- Rapid change of socio-economic status.
- Isolated.
- Dysfunction of family life.
- Substance abuse and domestic violence.
Available services in refugee camps

- Security
- Health & nutrition
- Shelter
- WASH
- Psycho-social counselling